ACPARIAN REVOLTS IN COMMUNIST CHINA REPORTED

Nan-ching, 22 July 1949 -- According to reliable sources, peasants in the Northeast are leaving their work, destroying machinery, and engaging in guerrilla activities. Responsible Chinese state that farmers are destroying bridges and rail lines and farming industries. The exact magnitude of this movement is not clear, but high CCP officials speak of it as "very serious" and attribute it to bandits and KMT agents. CCF patrols are reported to be undergoing attack. The CCP looks upon the Northeast as an important factor in the modernization of all of China and heretofore the farmers have been its most faithful supporters in the

According to the CCP New China News Agency, the CCF have quelled, in Kiangsu and Anhvei, scattered peasant resistance led by KMT agents, landlords, and bandits. Most of the opposition is motivated by heavy taxation and is not of a political nature. One farmers' group in North Kiangsu has the slogan "Oppose the Communists and destroy the KMT." The peasant movement in North Anhwei is also of this nature. In resisting tax collection, poorly armed peasants attacked CCP troops and killed one officer. In these areas the powerful CCF can only demonstrate a peaceful attitude toward the peasants. The CCF is now experiencing what the KMT forces experienced before them.

Competent observers tallieve that in the future the peasants will develop a formidable resistance to the CCP. The peasants at present here to support the CCF's m'litary program and in the future will have to bear the brunt of the CC?'s ambitious industrial plans.
